DAILY BRIEF / 11 NOV 2026

Retention and payment conditions

Three checks for today

Separate what changed from conditions still to be checked.

Export FX: retention to 45 days

CBM announced on 9 November that the usable portion of export FX may be retained for 45 days, up from 30. Check repatriation deadlines separately.

Evidence and analysis →

FX: read by observation date

Kyodai is dated 11 November; CBM, MRP and YSX are dated 10 November. Keep remittance, reference and market observations separate.

Analysis: check trading terms

An index rise alone does not establish the ability to sell at a desired price. Check individual-stock volume, spreads and order conditions.

Unverified indicators

Fresh comparable gold, fuel, agricultural and bond values remain unverified. CSO displays and PPRD listings were checked; gaps are not filled with old values or estimates, nor treated as unchanged.

03 / REGULATION · CBM · 09 NOV

Export FX: retention to 45 days

CBM's official statement dated 9 November extends retention of the usable portion of export earnings in foreign-currency accounts from 30 to 45 days. It cites time needed for import licensing and overseas payments.

Separate checks	Verified scope
Account retention	Usable portion: 30 → 45 days
Repatriation	Track the prescribed period separately
Individual application	Confirm start date and existing balances with bank

NOTICE ↗

Analysis: cash planning

Exporters that also import may gain preparation time. This does not mean unrestricted retention of all proceeds or automatic transfer approval. Do not promise payment dates from the retention period alone.

Next bank checks

Check eligible balances, counting dates, transition rules, conversion obligations and payment documents. The official statement was read; bank implementation and case-specific application were not checked.

09 / TRANSPORT · CONSTRUCTION

Bridge works are not an opening

MITV reported on 10 November that the deputy construction minister inspected the new 1,000-foot Dokhtawaddy Bridge project on 9 November, at mile 358/1–3 of the Yangon–Mandalay Expressway.

What was confirmed

The evidence is a report of a work-site inspection, not an opening or full-access announcement. Completion dates, vehicle/weight limits and actual journey times are not established by this article. No field reporting.

Logistics checks (analysis)

Before changing deliveries, check current authority notices and carrier conditions. Verify load, detour and delivery-time implications for each trip; do not infer lower freight costs or shorter journeys from construction progress.
